

Don Cullen

Don is in the firm's tax department, as the tax services manager, with more than 20 years of experience providing tax-related services for individuals, small businesses, and estates. Don holds a BBA in accounting from Western Michigan University and an MBA from the University of New Hampshire.

Don is an Enrolled Agent (EA) and is licensed to practice before the Internal Revenue Service, as well as an active member of the National Association of Enrolled Agents, Massachusetts Society of Enrolled Agents, and New Jersey Society of Enrolled Agents.

Throughout the years, Don's tax experience has grown with the challenges and unique circumstances of each new client. Don's primary objective is focused on his client's particular financial and tax situations. He realizes that relationships are important, as is trust. In turn, Don does immense amounts of continuing education each year, as required by the IRS for enrolled agents and for his clients so they can always depend on him.
